I'm Karen Elaine (Laine). I formerly would fret about decluttering my space. It was so hard to figure out what to keep and what to donate. I figured out a few tricks that help me easily rid myself of the things I don't need or want. Now, when I decide to declutter, it actually feels so liberating! I use these same guidelines to help others reduce their clutter. Decluttering doesn't have to be stressful. I can coach you through the process. A decluttered space is so much easier to organize! An organized space makes it easier to be productive in other areas of life. It might sound silly, but decluttering and organizing really does have a domino effect on your life, for the good! Need help with your next decluttering or organizing project? I'd love to help! Book a free discovery call with me!
